

Polina Demidova

Polina Demidova lives and works in Geneva, Switzerland. She has painted since her childhood and is now active in various fields including visual illustration and teaching art to children.

In her artwork Polina is using an original technique she developed and perfected over the past four years and that combines collage with freehand drawing. She also works in a more conventional technique of oil painting as it seeks to preserve the delicate balance between realism and decorative art. As inspiration she admires Klimt, Schiele or Beardsley.
